A RAIN CLOUD contains a million individual drops of moisture which hemorrhage as a deluge
of water when reaching critical mass.

The photographic gestalt contains thousands of pixels of singular polka dots which our eyes construct as MIRAGE OF REALITY.

Seurat's paintings are a harmonious pattern,
vibrating color polko dots.

To photographers GRAIN is considered a flaw because it reveals the bones
of the picture's skeleton.

Upon closer examination this cloud of PIXELS have their own beauty similar to Seurat's dancing theater.

His paintings expose the fabric of the picture's illusion. The mere pleasure of the polka dots is its own reward.

Stop looking at the surface without seeing it.
