

Warhol as a Les Demoiselle d'Avignon

This was my early portrait of Warhol published in Harper's Bazaar contributor's column. I didn't know he was bald.
I thought he had peculiar hair,

Andy Warhol

Andy was a sissy in high school.

He had zits and carried his books like a girl.

He got all A's in art.

After graduating from Carnegie
Watermelon in Pittsburgh, Mr. Warhol flew nonstop to Manhattan like a homing pigeon.

He blotted a line to fame and fortune.

Chic Bodley displayed his Elvis Presely boot.

His mother did his handwriting and misspelled Presley.

Andy gave me the boot.

I gave it away because I thought it was cute.

Soon Vreeland knew his name.

He had breakfast and dinner at Tiffany's.

ANDY X 4

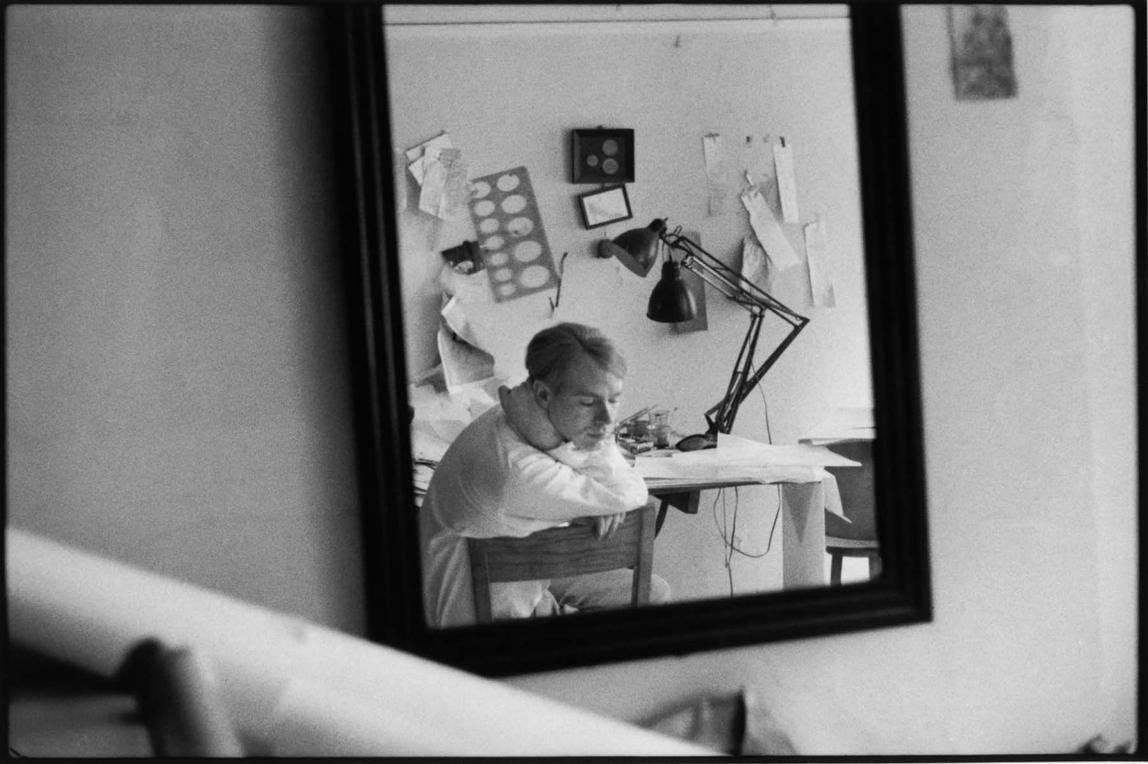

He appeared in Bonwit Teller's windows. So did Jasper Johns's flags. Rauschenberg too.

I. Miller became I. Andy.

He took a limo from Madison Avenue to West 53rd Street with a stop at Castelli's galleria.

Andy invited his friends on Sunday afternoons to paint parties. Everyone had a color to fill in his privately printed books. I got red.

Leo, “People are Talking About,”

Lerman rang me up:

“Stop the presses!

The art-museum-gallery-industrial complex is buzzing with a new ISM.

Photograph Wesselman, Dine, Lichtenstein, Rosenquist, and W•A•R•H•O•L!”

Andy dearest?

ANDY WARHOL AND JULIA WARHOLA

Upon arriving at AW's studio, the artist in residence was a black-and-white cartoon.

The room vibrated with the thunderings of rock and roll cacophony. The walls looked like grocery shelves of Campbell soup cans.

ANDY

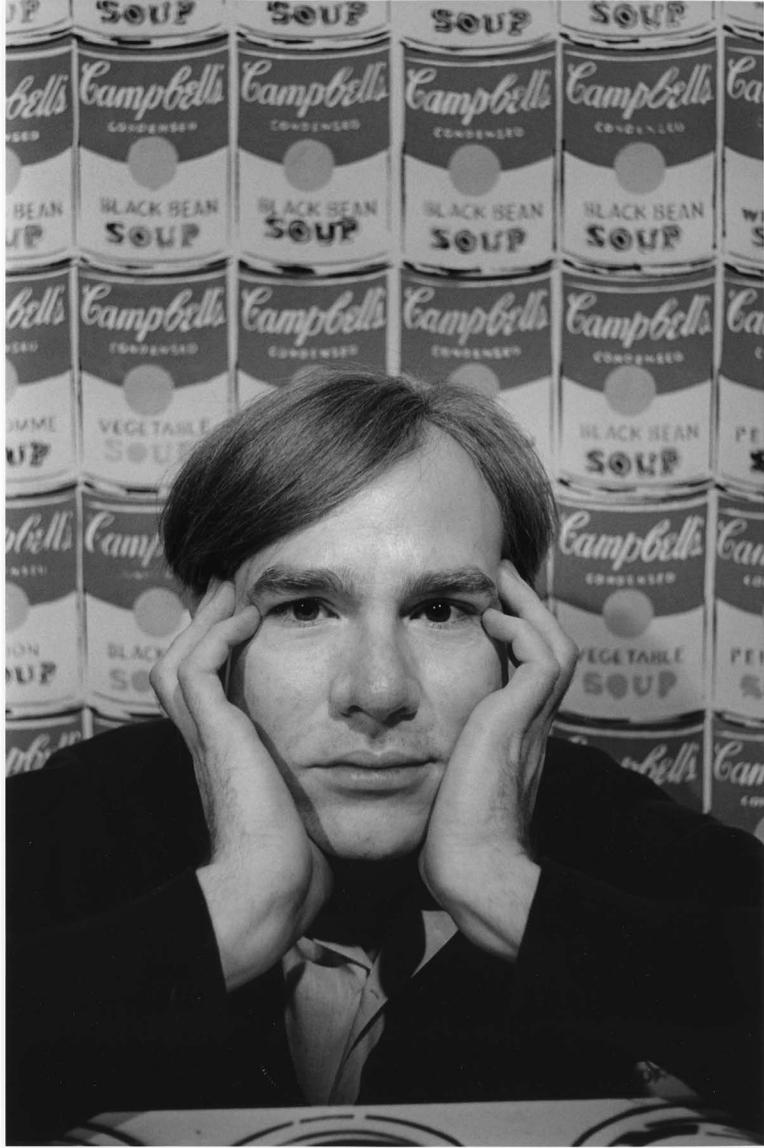

EATS

A

BANANA

He glamorped into a leather butterfly.

“Who else have you photographed?”

“What did their work look like?”

“Who’s their dealer?”

BYE BYE Bodley Baby!

HELLO MoMA-MIA!

Tonight:
 Clear, 85-60.
 Tomorrow: Mostly sunny,
 80-65.
 Forecast 4:30 PM
 Phone: 692-7111, 5:44

STOCK PRICES
 Pages 82-84

New York Post
 © 1984 New York Post Corporation
 NEW YORK, TUESDAY, JUNE 4, 1984
 Vol. 142 No. 169

10 Cents
 (In Central States Area)

WALL ST. CLOSING
LATE SPORTS

ANDY WARHOL FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Voting Calif.

ANGELES (AP)— Democrats have their choice (State Senator Eugene J.
 at Robert P.

big one for with the certain to that chuk
 President Demoction-on-past of get

Pop artist-film maker Andy Warhol, shown right at a recent Long Island party, has improved but still fighting for his life today. Valerie Solanas, shown at the book, is charged with shooting him.

Photos by Peter and Walter
Stories on Page 3

Marcus' Downfall —The Gov't Stoi

BY MARVIN SHILTON
 and NANCY SEELY

Stock market losses led former Water Commissioner James L. Marcus to raise
 "bags in doh" in city "contracts. Asst. U. S. Atty. General G. Morvillo charged today.
 The prosecutor denied opening statement in U. S.
 District Court to Marcus, 57, against his four men indicted with him on charges of bribery conspiracy.
 first time that Marcus, who was getting $50,000 a year, not only was in on the alleged kickback, but tried to double-cross his associate by negotiating with another company "for a bigger payment."
 Marcus yesterday changed his own plea to guilty in a Confessed on Page 3

DAILY NEWS
 NEW YORK'S PICTURE NEWSPAPER
 8¢

ACTRESS SHOTS ANDY WARHOL

Mod Man

DAILY NEWS
 NEW YORK'S PICTURE NEWSPAPER
 8¢

Andy Warhol, 1928-1987

POP ART'S KING DIES

© Christie's Warhol at the East Side Gallery of Pop Art

ANDY ON THE TELEPHONE

When Mr. Warhola called, he sounded like a telephone off the hook.

“AH AH AH AH Hi Duane”

“Hi Andy”

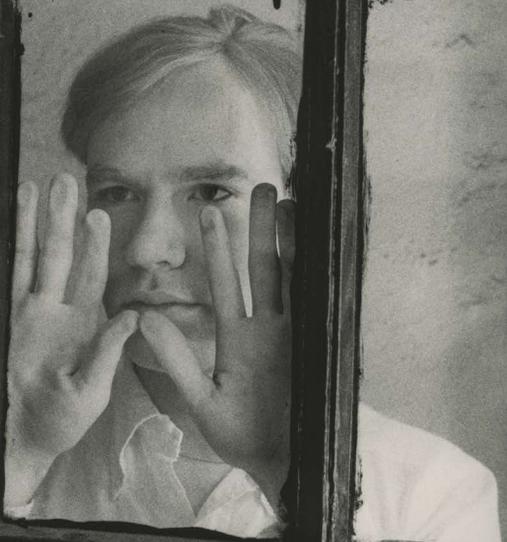

“AH AH AH AH AH. Duane, you’re fabulous.”

“I know, Andy.”

“No, Duane, you’re even more fabulous!”

“Bye Andy”

242

242 Lexington

P•O•O•P•S•T•A•R!

Tell me what to say.

Andy would go to an opening of a letter.

Saturday night Liz, Mick, Liza, Lisa, Bianca, Andy, Studio 54!

Sunday morning mass.

I had a call from a lady in Texas,

Her son was the boy on the couch between Andy and Gerard, ~~and Andy~~,
He had OD on ~~drugs~~. She was anxious to know ~~if~~ if I knew what happened to him, Sadly, no!

Andy was an authentic existentialist and an inauthentic artist.

“I am famous. Therefore I am because I am famous.”

He did not paint, draw, or sculpt.
He skimmed Koncensus Kulture.

Gerard Malanga was Andy Warhol.
Whatever became of Gerard Malanga?

Bang, bang you're dead!

Before he became ANDY, Andy planned to open an antique store.
He collect stuff in his living room.

KODAK SAFETY FILM

KODAK SAFETY FILM

KODAK SAFETY FILM

26

27

28

29

30

31

KODAK SAFETY FILM

KODAK SAFETY FILM

KODAK SAFETY FILM

32

33

34

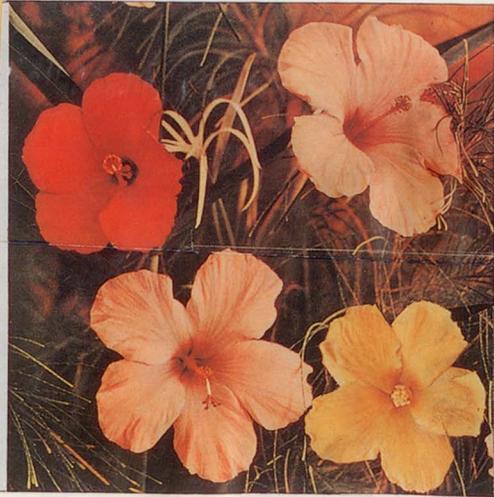

35

36

48/4

Mr. Borden

Made in <sup>Blue</sup> B + White has cost-of

Made like my 13 most wanted men

please trust

If a writer steals another writer's text it's called plagiarism, not appropriation.

ANDY WARHOL

Marhol told me she once took a young man on a holiday
around the world

"He didn't even give me a kiss"

THE ROLLING STONES
STICKY FINGERS

WARHOLA

ANDREW
NOV. 28, 1896 - MAY 15, 1942
FATHER

JULIA
NOV. 17, 1893 - NOV. 20, 1972
MOTHER

DOHMLO MICHAEL 1900 - 1988
JUDY SERVA
1910 - 1988

ANN ALLEN
1890 - 1980

1900 - 1980

1900 - 1980

ANDY WARHOL

AUGUST 6, 1928
FEBRUARY 22, 1987

Campbell's Tomato soup