

ON BEING SPOOKED

To whom it may concern, I am now ninety four. Nine and four add up to thirteen. An unlucky number

I have been experiencing spooky stuff.

This includes seeing the ghost of my mother who waved goodbye to me, and some strange person in a cloud of brilliant white particles in our house in the country.

In addition I have now heard voices calling my name knocking at the door with no one there.

When I turned ninety three
A voice called out,

“ARE YOU READY??”

I replied,

“Ready for what??? Yes!”

This is unprecedented to me.
I do not consider myself to be crazy.

(although I am a novelty item)

I think this is natural event for older people. Is this phenomenon a harbinger of mortality?

If so, how should I respond?
